DETAILED ACTION

Receipt of request for reconsideration and IDS dated 3-24-03 is acknowledged.

Claims 1-186 are pending. Claims 10-12, 20-28 and 60-186 have been withdrawn as non-elected and claims 1-9, 13-19 and 29-59 are considered for examination.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 3-24-02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Double patenting rejection:

Applicants requested that the non-statutory double patenting rejection made in previous action be held in abeyance until allowable subject matter is indicated in the instant application. Accordingly, the rejection has been maintained.

Claims 1-9, 13-19 and 29-59 are rejected under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 6,235,298 to Naser et al (Naser) and US 5,688,930 to Bertho et al (Bertho):

Applicants argue that Naser does not teach the use of xylose and arabinose, as cited by office action, and instead teaches polymers of monomers of xylose and arabinose as anionic exudates polymers. Further, applicants argue that the combination of Naser and Bertho is improper because the references do not suggest combined teachings because while Naser teach the criticality of a zwitterionic or amphoteric surfactant, Bertho teaches alkyl pentosides make remarkable ionic surface active agents. Applicants' arguments are considered but not found persuasive because even though Naser fails to teach monosaccharide monomers and only teach anionic polysaccharide gums that is a complex of xylose and arabinose, instant 'comprising' language allows for the presence of both the anionic exudates gum of Naser as well as the non-ionic alkyl pentosides of Bertho. The combination of references do not require the replacement of polysaccharide gum of Naser with the alkyl pentosides of Bertho and instead teaches addition of alkyl pentosides of Bertho to the composition (containing the amphoteric surfactant) of Bertho. Applicants argue that the amphoteric and non-ionic surfactants are completely different classes and accordingly one of an ordinary skill in the art would not be motivated to combine the teachings of references that teach away from each other. However, such arguments are not persuasive because instant composition is not limited to any emulsion as described by Naser. Further, Naser teaches the viscosity of their emulsions is altered by the addition of amphoteric or nonionic gum polymers to anionic surfactants (figures of Naser) but does not have any teaching with respect to the [non-ionic] alkyl pentoside (of Bertho). Furthermore, assuming the non-ionic surfactants the alkyl pentoside of Bertho is not a polysaccharide gum. Furthermore, Bertho teaches that compositions containing alkyl pentosides can further contain anionic, cationic or non-ionic surfactants (col. 8-9). Accordingly, applicants' argument that Naser and Bertho teach away from each other is not persuasive. Therefore, the rejection is deemed to be proper.

Art Unit: 1615

The examiner has considered the information disclosure statement filed 3-24-03 and a copy of the same is attached to this office action.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

Art Unit: 1615

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
